

Asian Festival Career Fair offers organizations and companies the opportunity to tap Asian American talents. This helps companies to reach out to the Asian American Community and meet their diversity objectives. Companies can join multitude of the most promising employers across of industries attracting Asian American Talents.

The Career Fair at the Asian Festival makes it easy for the job seekers to explore career opportunities with large companies and organizations in Columbus and other parts of Central Ohio. Companies like Honda, Chase Bank, Nationwide, United Way, State of Ohio-EEO, etc.

The Career Fair at the Asian Festival provides plenty of opportunities for job seekers to tap employers who are hiring during this economic downturn. That's only because Asian Festival is set up to make this happen for job seekers. It's saving the job seekers the trouble of building the network and contact base and trying to work the job seeker's way through people to get a job. There are ready networks of employers who are acting as a pedestal thereby giving the job seekers access to the employers of their choice.